

Victorian Toys	1960s	Now
Most Victorian toys were made of hard materials, such as wood and metal. Children would spend many hours playing with toys made at home.	In the 1960s and 1970s, there were toys made for boys and for girls. Children would go to the toy shops to choose their favourite toys to play.	Before computers, children would have wind up toys which used a key to make them work. Today many toys are electronic or computer-based. Parents spend a lot of money buying toys for their children.

For your project, can you design a toy? You can use cardboard, sticks, empty plastic bottles or any other material of your choice. If you can't make a toy, you can draw them or write some facts. Ask your parents for help. Bring these projects on the first day back from the half term break. The best project will win a prize.
